A conspicuous illustration of the St. Jacobs Oil as a remedy for rheumatism is found in J. A. Bonham, the well-known lawyer of Philadelphia, Pa., who, thus tells his experience: "About two weeks ago I was seized with what the doctor called muscular rheumatism in my right leg. The leg below the knee was swollen until I could hardly stand upon it. I had seen St. Jacobs Oil advertised, and I sent to the drug store near my house, on the corner of Nineteenth and Master streets, for a bottle of it. I rubbed my leg with it that night, and in a short time the pain seemed to go away. Next morning the swelling had shifted from under the ankle to the upper part of the knee. Well I applied the Oil again, and the swelling in a short time went away, leaving a very slight pain. I didn't use any more of the Oil, thinking that the attack was all over. About a week later it appeared again in the same place. The leg swelled so badly that, after coming down and walking several squares, I gave completely out. Well, I went home intending to try some French medicine, but I forgot to get it, and having a part of this bottle of St. Jacobs Oil in the house yet, I tried it again, bathe the limb thoroughly. Well, sir, when I got up in the morning the pain and swelling were both almost gone, and after one more application I was as well as ever, and from that time to this I haven't been troubled."

THERE MAY BE SOMETHING IN IT FOR RENO.

The Carson and Colorado railroad is progressing southward rapidly, and in a few months will tap the great base-metal belt in Inyo county, where large quantities of argentiferous ores await transportation to some point where they may be reduced. Miners have been in that region for years, holding on to their claims and doing assessment work, strong in the belief that some day cheap transportation would enable them to realize returns from their mines. The new southern road will pass along this belt at a distance of from three to ten miles off, and if a business is made of shipping ores for reduction it may be that Reno will be benefited by it. Fuel can be obtained here in endless quantity and at low prices, while water power here is unlimited. With these requisites Reno ought to be able to bid for the trade and traffic that will undoubtedly follow the development of Inyo county mines.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The steamship Alaska, of the Guion line, now stands at the head of the list of fast ocean vessels. The recent trip across the Atlantic was accomplished in 7 days 6 hours 43 minutes actual. She sailed from New York March 21st and passed Fastnet at 5:20 P. M. on the 28th. The fastest voyage which had been made previous to this was by the famous Arizons, also of the Guion line, which crossed the Atlantic in 7 days 7 hours and 48 minutes. The weather is not reported to have been unusually fine.

Whatever may be the feeling of the women of Vermont regarding their complete enfranchisement, they do not care for the partial right of suffrage which enables them to vote for School Commissioners. This statute has been in force two years. At the first election six of all the women in Burlington voted, and at the second only five. In the latter instance, Lucy Stone and other agitators had industriously stumped the State.

The committee whose call for an anti-Chinese meeting was published last Friday, write to the GAZETTE urging the friends of labor to send representatives. We take pleasure in offering the freedom of the GAZETTE's columns to any responsible party who desire to call a meeting or urge action.

Ex-Governor Curtin, of Pennsylvania, now representative in Congress from that State, says: "Put 100,000 Chinese down in Massachusetts, to displace the enlightened workmen of that great State, and the violence of Puritan denunciations would dwarf the utterances of the sand lots and brambles of California."

Says a San Jose horticultural writer: "It would be well if no Eastern-grown trees were allowed to be brought to this coast, for there is danger of introducing in that way the curculio, or plum weevil, and if that insect once gains a foothold, we may as well give up trying to grow fruit."

The average price of assassins in Tombstone is $20, but sometimes a man can be hired to commit a murder for $15 (cash in advance). A correspondent writes that the undertakers stand in with the murderers for the sake of burying the "stiff."

A female writer remarks that "large cities seem built expressly to accommodate men. There are lots of saloons and eating houses, for men and lamp posts for them to cling to when tight, and yet there is not a single convenience for a woman."

Silver is now being found in almost every State in the Union. The latest report is to the effect that a rich silver mine had been discovered at Cranberry, Mitchell county, North Carolina, by a returned Comstocker.

There is something radically wrong in our professions. A pious minister only gets $1.40 for joining a couple, and a wicked lawyer gets $40 for uniting the same.

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

Anti-Chinese Meeting, in Chicago.

CHICAGO, April 16.

The anti-Chinese meeting here last evening was a great success in point of attendance and enthusiasm. It was the first of a series to be held under the auspices of the Trades Assembly, the representative body of the wage-workers of Chicago, who hope to create here a public sentiment which shall spread over the country, and bring about the re-enactment of a Chinese bill. The 500 tradesmen were called to order by Mr. Rogers, President of the assembly; Mayor Harrison was chosen chairman of the meeting. His Honor, who was warmly greeted, said he had not prepared a speech, but the subject was one to which he had given much thought. When news came from Washington that the President had vetoed the bill restricting Chinese immigration there was a feeling of pain in the hearts of ninetenths of the people west of the Alleghany, and thousands east. There was indignation on the part of millions, especially in California, where the Chinese were a curse and a nuisance. Hayes blundered, but Arthur went deeper into the question, feeling called upon to eulogize the Chinese and to applaud them. The Mayor did not intend to say anything of party nature, but it behoved him to remark that the party behind Arthur, feeling that he had committed a terrible blunder, was doing its level best to correct it. The Democrats had not sunk deep enough in folly to attempt to check the passage of a restrictive Chinese bill. The question was whether we were to allow that vast hive of humanity (400,000,000 people) to come here.

William Halley of Sacramento was the next speaker. He said he had lived in California eight years, and knew what a curse the Chinese were to that State. The Burlingame treaty, which was responsible for their coming, was a delusion, the Chinese caring nothing for it, and the United States deriving no benefit from it, as was anticipated. Morally and socially, physically and politically, the Chinese were a disappointment, and not desirable as neighbors. They were simply imitators—originating nothing. They did not progress; on the contrary, they had been going backward for 30 years. Referring to the veto, the speaker said Arthur's reasons were very weak. The monopolists and their hireling preachers telegraphed him to do it. These men were in league against the producing classes of the country, and it was time there was a change. No people had ever stood so much as those of California, having the remedy in their own hands. He did not think the President should have the power to veto everything indiscriminately.

T. P. O'Connor Addresses the Land Leaguers.

CHICAGO, April 16.

A joint meeting of the land leaguers of this city was held here to-night, to listen to an address by T. P. O'Connor, M. P. for Galway, on his return from the Pacific Coast. About a thousand persons were present. O'Connor was received with great enthusiasm, and spoke at length. Addresses were also made by N. V. Gannon, President of the Land Leaguers; Father Dorney, President of the Illinois Land Leaguers, and others.

OMAHA, April 16.

Resignation of a Railroad official.

OMAHA, April 16.

General Supt. J. T. Clark, of the Union Pacific, has resigned, he having accepted the position of General Supt. of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul system of roads.

FOREIGN.

Parnell's Probable Release.

LONDON, April 17.

The Observer's Dublin correspondent believes that Parnell, on his return to Kilmainham Jail, will be unconditionally released.

Trial of Albanian Murderers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 17.

The trial of the Albanians who murdered Commander Selby on a shooting excursion near Astaki, in Asia Minor, has begun. The Public Prosecutor asked that the sentence of the prisoners be only 15 years at hard labor, as the crime was committed in the heat of a struggle.

WESTERN TELEGRAMS.

The Notorious Dolliver Case Dismissed

SAN FRANCISCO, April 17.

In the police-court to-day the notorious Dolliver case was dismissed, on motion of the prosecuting attorney, on the ground that there was an unwillingness on the part of persons immediately concerned to prosecute; that two of the principal witnesses were absent, one in New York and the other in the northern country, and that there had already been two trials of the case. It was in this case that Attorney Murphy was shot down in the court-room by officer Maroney. It is stated around the City Hall that the charge against Maroney will not be very heavily pressed.

Suicide at Gilroy.

GILROY, April 16.

J. B. Nelson, proprietor of a junk store, committed suicide last night by taking poison. He left a note stating that financial troubles drove him to the act.

The Bristol Mines.

The Bristol (Nev.) Times says: "We have fine mines on both sides of the range, proving conclusively that the deposits are not confined to one spot. The ore is found here in large bodies, and when encountered is generally of high grade. As we have reached no great depth in any mine in the district the chances are that by sinking one thousand feet or over an enormous deposit will be found underlying the entire group of mines. The Bristol range is located for a long distance, the ore cropping from the surface in many places. There is no doubt but that we have a bright future before us."

House-Cleaning.

The season is approaching when the householder will be called upon to exhibit the patience of Job. In the Eastern States the family man catches Hail Columbia periodically about this time, when there is a grand house-cleaning love-feast, and bedbug rodeo. If a man can't stand cold dinners for two weeks, help to move furniture, take down stove-pipes and nurse the baby at intervals, he has no business getting married and establishing a household. Fishing excursions with parties made up of male members exclusively are fashionable as the 1st of May looms up on the calendar.

The Broom Drill.

All over California young ladies are forming broom clubs, and the broom has at last reached Reno. The Transcript describes the uniform of the Nevada City broom club: "Their dresses consisted of unbleached muslin, trimmed with red calico. They wore light blue caps, with dust cloths of the same color, while a dustpan was suspended from the left hip. Each one carried an ordinary broom, which was trimmed with red." An enthusiastic person said to the reporter: "Why, sir, such pretty feet—there wasn't one of them that wore over a number three shoe."

The Bodie Free Press says: They pardon horse thieves and bloody murderers from the Carson Penitentiary, but poor Alf. Chartz still remains behind the bars.

J. L. Weilby, a prominent young architect from Oakland, is in charge of Lonkey & Smith's extensive mills and factory at Verdi. His wife is with him and they propose to settle down.

Harry Brooks, the Dead Brakeman. This unfortunate victim of the accident last Saturday had been employed on the railroad for about 18 months. For a year he has been on the Sacramento division, but about six months ago he changed off and has been running between Truckee and Wadsworth ever since. He was married about a year ago, and himself and wife have been boarding at the American Hotel in Truckee for some months.

WILD PARSNIPS.

Four Children Poisoned at Susanville—One of the Number Dies.

The Lassen Advocate of the 13th gives particulars of the accidental poisoning of four children at that place last week, brief mention of which was made in the GAZETTE of last Saturday. They were digging for angle-worms, and came across what they supposed were wild potatoes, which the eldest boy said were good to eat, and he set the example. The children were soon after found writhing upon the ground in great agony. One of the number being very sick, vomited up some of the parsnip, and thus revealed the cause of their sickness. Medical aid was immediately sent for, but by the time it arrived the older boy, who had eaten a greater quantity than the others, was found to be past help. Attention was then turned to the others, and by the free use of mustard as an emetic the contents of their stomachs were ejected. About nine o'clock the oldest boy, Charles T. Sherman, aged about ten years, died. The sufferings of this poor little fellow were beyond description. From the time he was found until his death he had convulsion after convulsion without cessation longer than seven minutes. Nothing could be done to alleviate his suffering. The other children, after the parsnip had been ejected, suffered with spasms until about nine o'clock. Fears were entertained that they could not be saved, but through the untiring efforts of physicians and friends they are at this writing out of danger. We hope this will be a warning to all the little ones, and hereafter they will be very careful what they pick up and eat. The names of the little ones are Arthur Long, Charles T. Sherman, Henry and Eddie Burton aged respectively 8, 10, 5 and 3 years. The best antidotes for this poison are mustard and sweet oil. The Indians frequently make a mistake in gathering roots, and get hold of this exceedingly poisonous one. They have an antidote, but what it is we have been unable to ascertain—but few of them die from its effects. The tops are harmless, and unless the roots are partaken of the effects are not serious. The best antidote to be used on animals is whisky.

TRUCKEE LOCALS.

[From the Republican of Saturday.]

Ex-Assemblyman George W. Giffen will be a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the California Assembly next Winter.

There is considerable sickness in town, including a few cases of pneumonia.

Accounts of the assignee of the Banner Mill Co., have been approved by the Superior Court.

Sisson, Crocker & Co. shipped 8,000 bushels of charcoal to the Sacramento railroad shops last week.

Truckee school teachers will not attend the county institute on the 24th.

The Summit Ice Co. ship seven car-loads daily.

Whitefish are plenty in the Truckee river.

G. Q. Buxton arrived from Randolph Friday afternoon, with four horses and a sleigh load of passengers, having made the trip in about eight hours. He put snow shoes on his horses and came over the crust without any trouble.

A heavy snow slide occurred recently about two and a half miles west of Randolph. The slide came from the top of the mountain on the west side, wrecking a large amount of timber. It was by far the largest slide known since John Bryant was killed in 1866.

A Busy Place.

S. Jacobs is here, and everybody is finding it out. He found it necessary, in order to accommodate his large and steadily-increasing business, to move into a larger store. He can be found on the same side of Virginia street, one door further south, in the room formerly occupied by the Palace Hotel.

Mr. Jacobs employs three men, and can, if necessary, get up a first-class suit in 36 hours after he takes the measure. No merchant tailor on the coast can lay claim to a better stock.

His goods are of the latest patterns and finest qualities. Samples sent to any address upon application. A perfect fit guaranteed in every case.

With the advantages Mr. Jacobs has, it is impossible for San Francisco tailors to compete with him successfully.

He is doing an immense business, and if you call at his shop it is a sure thing you order a suit before leaving.

His stock and prices demand that everyone should dress up.

Premature.

The Truckee Republican of Saturday says: "In our last issue we stated that the Pacific Wood and Lumber Company had commenced driving their logs down the Little Truckee to their mill at Clinton. It now transpires that the announcement was rather premature, as there is not sufficient water in the Little Truckee for a good sized duck to swim in. Mr. Martin has a number of men at work getting ready to make a drive as soon as the thaw comes."

Changing the Current.

The officers of the Nevada Central say their business has fallen off one-half on account of the C. & C. R. They haul very little freight for points south of Austin.

NEIGHBOR'S RIGHTS.

No Man is Justified in Trespassing Upon Others.

If Brown's pig gets into Smith's enclosure, a growl ensues; and if Smith's cow inadvertently retaliates by grazing in Brown's flower garden, a riot follows. The magnitude of the ensuing disturbance is according to the size of the trespassing animals. Probably two elephants deprecating upon the property of different owners would excite a long and bloody war between two nations. But as we seldom find two neighbors owning a pet elephant each, such distracting occurrences are rare. The pig and cow business is common, however. Two neighbors were slaughtering each other with words this morning, and they reminded one of the man (Smith is a good name for him) whose cow was an exasperating bother to an adjoining farmer. One day the latter, enraged at the foraging quadruped, cut her tail off, close up. Next day Smith caught the farmer's son ravaging his vegetable patch, and slit her chops, clear up to her ears. Depend upon it there were some "riotous conduct" between the belligerents. Neither one would admit that he had mangled the other's animal, and the row was settled in court upon the presumption that the farmer's son had split her jaw laughing at the farmer's cow's tail. There are numbers of statutes in the records of different countries protecting neighbors from injury by each other's carelessness or misdeeds. In some of the English colonies, for instance, if you were to turn a pair of rabbits down in some parts, you would be liable to six months imprisonment with hard labor. If your neighbor did not cut down his thistles or other seed-spreading weeds, he could be summoned before the magistrates, who would order him to cut them down within reasonable time, and if he did not do it, it would be done for him at a much greater cost. No man had a right to do anything at all calculated to injure his neighbor. This is the principle at issue in the great debris trial in California.

BROOM CORN.

A great deal of broom corn is now brought from the East, and as it is a profitable product farmers are recommended to devote some attention to its cultivation. The seed, when mixed with corn, and ground, makes valuable feed for stock and poultry, especially young chickens. The yield of seed is fully equal to that of corn, and requires less to harvest. Compared with wheat or corn as a crop, broom corn is more profitable, and always in demand. The Los Angeles broom factory furnishes seed gratis to those who will undertake its cultivation, and it is to be hoped that the farmers will hereafter give this subject the attention it deserves. The GAZETTE has referred to this before, but, seeing so much about it in the California papers, is constrained to mention it again.

Genuine Negro Minstrels.

Charles Frohman, agent for a troupe of real darky minstrels, writes to the GAZETTE from New York, as follows: "Callender's Original Colored Minstrels, having reunited with all the principal artists in colored minstrelsy, will soon appear in Reno. They will inaugurate a new departure, so novel and so attractive in its character, that negro minstrelsy in its native form and by its original exponents will be recognized as the most pleasing class of popular entertainment for the masses. No expense has been spared in perfecting this organization. There will be two distinct brass bands for a double parade, and novelties never before introduced in minstrelsy."

They All Do It.

Mr. Wilson gave GAZETTE reporter an item the other day to the effect that he would soon open a restaurant in the place left vacant by Brookins. The irrepressible compositor got it "Mrs. Wilson," and made several other breaks of a similar nature. Mr. Wilson called on Saturday, and the criminal was turned over to him. He laid him out on an imposing stone and tattooed him with the shooting stick.

AN ITEM FOR THE FISH COMMISSIONERS.

Thus far few trout, if any, have been caught in the Truckee river above Verdi this season. The Republican is informed that all the dams have efficient fish ladders, but Indians and white men stand at the ladders and spear nine out of every ten that attempt to enter the ladders.

Tip O'ordorff.

"Tip," brother of James O'ordorff of Virginia, very well known in this section of Nevada, is said to be dying of consumption in San Francisco. Though still a young man, his physicians say his lease of life is short.

Railroad Sold.

The ties, railroad iron and lumber of the Battle Mountain and Lewis Railroad Co., were sold last Tuesday at Sheriff's sale for $1,589. The property was bid in by J. W. Stateler.

Sweepstakes Race.

On June 3d there will be a sweepstakes race, $25 forfeit, pay or play, between Lee's Crab to buggy, Worth's bay mare to wagon, A. Jose and Duvall's colts to harness. The entrance will be $25 in addition.

THE RENO GUARDS.

Reno Taking a Step Forward in the Organization of Local Militia.

At the meeting held Saturday evening at the Court House for the purpose of organizing a military company the following business was transacted: The meeting was called to order by R. H. Lindsey, and T. F. Laycock was elected temporary Secretary. On motion of A. Moger, it was voted that the company be known as "The Reno Guard." Election of officers was next in order, the following gentlemen were unanimously elected officers of the Company: A. Moger, Captain; W. W. Waggoner, First Lieutenant; T. F. Laycock, Second Lieutenant; E. L. Bridges, Second Junior Lieutenant; E. A. Allen, Secretary; W. J. Henry, Financial Secretary; Allen C. Bragg, Treasurer. The election of non-commissioned officers was deferred until one week from to-night. Captain Moger appointed Messrs. Bridges, Waggoner and Loomis a committee to draft rules, etc., to report at the next meeting. Messrs. Waggoner, Benham and Winfrey were appointed a committee on Armory. It is the intention of the committee to get the Pavilion if possible. Colonel C. C. Stevenson has been written to regarding the matter, and will probably be heard from to-morrow. Reno is to have a military company at last. The "awkward squad" will be turned loose next Monday evening in the company armory.

SHOOTING SCARE.

NOT A CHEERFUL LIFE.

The Effect of Superstition on Railroad Men in General.

Railroad men have their tender spots like men in all other professions. There are many peculiarities which run through the whole class that are never felt by other classes, who in turn each indulge in some mystery of their own. Probably the boys of the rail are not more superstitious than other classes, and yet it is the universal belief among them that every severe accident which occurs will be followed by two more. The feeling at such times is to be more than ordinarily careful, and some men even ask for leaves of absence for a short time. There are several men who have been railroading here for years who live in the daily belief that their end will be violent. One conductor yesterday remarked to a GAZETTE reporter that he looked for his time to come at any moment now, as he had run beyond the average. He said he hoped that he would not be maimed or crippled, but that his end would be as near instantaneous as possible, and he would not have to lie and suffer. The effect on character of such a state of mind is very strong. The train men are drawn from the flower of the land, so far as nerve and muscle are concerned, for a coward or a fool would not be able to fulfil the duties, and the frequent loss of a comrade by a misstep or an instant's inattention throws an influence around them seldom felt in other walks of life.

CARSON'S PRIMARY.

Word was brought to Susanville from Taylorville, by an Indian, last Monday, to the effect that Ira Hunsinger had shot a man by the name of Smith at the latter place. As near as can be learned, the circumstances are as follows: Smith and Hunsinger had had some words before, and it was from a recurrence that the trouble was caused. Smith struck Hunsinger, whereupon he was knocked down by the latter, and while in the act of administering sound thrashing he (Hunsinger) was struck by a son of Smith with a piece of scantling and knocked to the ground. He then arose, drew his pistol and shot Smith Jr. in the abdomen. It is thought that the ball did not enter, but passed around, inflicting only a flesh wound. Smith Senior is Assessor of Plumas county, and the feud originated several years ago over an assessment of Hunsinger's property, and there has been more or less trouble between them since. So says the Lassen Advocate of the 13th.

AURORA BOREALIS.

Last evening a bright Aurora Borealis illuminated the northern sky, at times flashing up from horizon to zenith so brightly as to remind one of a great conflagration. Our Virginia City neighbors, seeing these brilliant northern lights, and not being so well posted on celestial displays as our own towns-people, telegraphed to know if Reno was on fire.

MCTAGUE IN JAIL.

Jack McTague, who a few days ago shot Henry Savage at Candelaria, has been committed to jail in default of $5,000 bail, to await the action of the Grand Jury, which meets in May. He will, without doubt, be returned to his old quarters in the State Prison for a long term. The man he shot is in Carson, and getting along very well.

MUSIC IN THE AIR.

Verdi now has the advantage of excellent music. The family of O. Burns have come to join him and they all play well on anything. The boys say the young lady of the family can make music out of anything, from a harp to a long handled shovel.

GREATER THAN LEGION.

Why He Quit.
"Yes," said he, as he stood leaning against one of the palatial structures in the "bad lands," "I've let up on drinking; quit for good. I give you a dead pointer on that. The last time I got full here in Deadwood, I had trouble with a bullwhacker, and blazed away at him and missed him, and I wasn't over 20 feet away. Then I said to myself, if things have got this far along with me, I will let right in, and I have not taken a drink since then, and what's more, I never will."

Chinese Students in Europe.

A number of young Chinese officers have just arrived in France for a course of study. They speak French fluently, and are shortly to be admitted to the Ecole Polytechnique, to St. Cyr, and the Ecole Forestiere. It is said that they are also to visit England and Germany during their stay in Europe.

An Engineer's "Log."

A new speed indicator, called the strathmograph for indicating the speed of locomotives has just been introduced on the Hanoverian railroads. By it the engineer can read from a scale the actual speed of his engine at any time, besides which a record of the trip is kept on a slip of paper.

Harvest Prospects.

At a meeting of the Wheat Growers' Association, at San Francisco recently, reports were received from all sections in regard to the growing crop. The conclusion was, after considering all sections, that there would be this year an average harvest.
